APPOINTMENT OF BITCOIN STRATEGIC ADVISOR

Africa Bitcoin Corporation wishes to notify shareholders that the Company has appointed Dr Saifedean Ammous, economist and author, in an advisory capacity as Bitcoin Strategic Advisor. Dr Ammous is internationally recognised for his work on monetary economics, including as author of "The Bitcoin Standard" and "The Principles of Economics".

The Company's Africa-focused strategy aligns closely with several of the themes explored in his published work, particularly the interaction between sound money, long-term capital formation and economic productivity. His appointment reflects a shared interest in how Bitcoin-based treasury principles may be applied within emerging markets and developing economies, specifically Africa.

In this advisory capacity, Dr Ammous will provide periodic high-level economic and treasury-related insights to the Company's executive management team. The role is non-executive and carries no decision-making or fiduciary authority within the Company, nor will Dr Ammous be appointed to the board of directors of Africa Bitcoin Corporation. His contribution will be conceptual in nature and is intended to support management's internal thinking.

The Company expects to benefit significantly from Dr Amouss's considerable expert knowledge of the Bitcoin eco system and looks forward to working with him.

"We are honoured to welcome Dr. Saifedean Ammous into the Africa Bitcoin Corporation mission. His work has impacted millions, shaped the global understanding of sound money, and our journey in Africa gives those ideas a living expression. As we use Bitcoin to strengthen our treasury and power private credit for SMEs, we are not only generating economic yield, we are unlocking human yield. Every business we support, every job created, every community uplifted reflects the dignity that sound money restores. Having Saifedean walk this path with us is both a privilege and a profound affirmation of the work ahead." - Stafford Masie, Executive Chairman & Director of Bitcoin Strategy, Africa Bitcoin Corporation
